Avila Offers Pluses In Sciences, Math

"We owe our students the most professional job we can do for them: in counseling, in the attitudes of our professors, their professionalism, the courses we offer, the equipment we use and the teaching methods we apply." Excellence and professionalism are goals Dr. Edward Donovan, biology area coordinator, shares with the other members of the natural sciences and mathematics department. He speaks with enthusiasm of the "highly qualified, highly motivated, cooperative, progressive" faculty of the natural sciences and mathematics department which includes Dr. Donovan, Dr. David Uhlik and Robert Powell, biology; Sr. Marie Joan Harris and Dr. Larry Sullivan, chemistry; Srs. Ann Dominic Tassone, Mary Fitzpatrick and Rita Flaherty, mathematics; and Mrs. Lewis (Virginia) Johnston, medical technology. Part-time instructors in the department are Omar Conrad, earth science; Sr. Paul Joseph Koutsoumpas, chemistry; and Sr. Helen Miljour, physics.

Joining Dr. Donovan in his appraisal is Sr. Marie Joan, chairman of the natural sciences and mathematics department, who cites the faculty's interest in students as "the greatest asset of the department." Sr. Marie Joan, who last September was awarded the 1974 International Surfactant Chemistry Award by the Italian Oil

Rod Walsh [opposite] is hard at work recording the results of an experiment while Kathy Kannard and Julie DeMasters [above] study together.

Chemists Association and who has a Ph.D. from the University of Kansas, devotes much of her time to tutoring students as do the others in the department. A high number of "contact" hours (lecture, laboratory, tutoring, counseling hours) is usual fare for this department.

Dr. Donovan cites another of the department's strengths as that of quality supervision in the lab commensurate with what the student receives in the lecture room. "If a Ph.D. delivers the lecture, then the student is entitled to the same quality in the laboratory. This is not the case at large institutions where graduate students often supervise labs," he remarks. Along those same lines, members of the department note the fine equipment which is available for science students' use, a situation unlike that in large universities where often only graduate students have access to the equipment.

The science department is instructing about a thousand students a year through its service to the nursing, medical technology and education programs. A fully-equipped fifth lab and additional office space is being added this semester to accommodate the needs of the department.

The pre-med major, under the direction of Dr. Sullivan, has been broadened and strengthened through a program to prepare the student to meet the requirements of the particular medical school to which he intends to apply. The number of pre-med majors has increased this year from one to six and indications are that next year's freshman class will have seven more majors.

The medical technology area has gained impetus through a new coordinated program developed in cooperation with St. Joseph's and St. Luke's Hospitals. The new coordinated program is the only one of its kind in the greater Kansas City area. The program provides for the student to spend his first three years on campus in pursuit of academic courses with an emphasis on biology and chemistry. During his fourth year he gains clinical experience at one of the cooperating hospitals. This new program guarantees placement of a student who has successfully completed the prerequisites for the clinical experience, an improvement over other medical technology programs which provide no assistance in placement for the clinical experience. The Missouri Regional Medical Program is providing assistance in developing the program through a grant awarded to the college this year. Virginia Johnston, a registered medical technologist, is the project director.

Reaching the non-science major to stimulate an appreciation for and an interest in the sciences is a goal which is being worked toward through specially-designed courses available in the regular session and in mini-sessions. The primary goal of the natural sciences and mathematics department, however, is to increase the number of generic majors, i.e. biology, chemistry and mathematics, and that goal is one not so much of quantity as quality. As Dr. Donovan puts it, "We're like the Marines. We want a few good ones." Generic majors who are accepted into graduate schools provide a test of the mettle of the undergraduate program. "It has never been easy to enter graduate schools in science," says Dr. Donovan. "But the continued acceptance of our students would spread the reputation of the department and of the college and provide a test of our program." The activities of Avila's science graduates speak well for them and for the department. A number of them are pursuing careers in teaching, medical technology, research in clinical chemistry, environmental protection and cancer, and some are working toward doctoral degrees.

Personal attention and excellence are also concerns of the mathematics area. Again, the strength of this area is expressed in terms of the time instructors devote to working with the particular abilities of each individual, allowing students "time to grow," as Sr. Ann Dominic, mathematics area coordinator, expresses it. Mathematics students may take a broad spectrum of courses whose objectives are to teach logic, sequencing, application, research and communication as much as mathematics per se.

As with the sciences, the mathematics area provides courses to service other areas—education, business, nursing and social services. Sr. Ann Dominic relates with pride the graduates who have pursued careers as professional mathematicians. Today they are senior statisticians, programmers, teachers, marketing analysts, counselors, graduate students in law and industrial engineering, employment managers. The mathematics faculty encourages its students to use the Interim in January as a practicum to help them decide upon a career. Two young women students gained experience as computer operators during recent Interims.

Mini-courses providing enrichment for everyday living are a part of the plan of the mathematics and science areas to reach various segments of the community. Many of these will be evening courses planned specifically for the adult community. Members of the mathematics area have been assisting teachers, nurses, technicians and the general public through special workshops on subjects such as the metrics system.

Another concept which is being implemented this year is that of dual-enrollment in which a student may enroll in courses at Avila while still in high school. These courses may be taken on the campus or at the high school from an instructor approved by Avila. A calculus course at O'Hara High School last fall carried Avila credit under the dual-enrollment concept. Further experiences with the concept are planned by the natural sciences and mathematics department as well as the college at large.

Talent and dedication have combined in the natural sciences and mathematics department to produce strong programs which are a vital part of Avila College.

Homecoming Remembered

Portuguez (Graciela Balda), Mrs. Ronald Williams (Kathleen Hegarty), Mrs. William Morrow (Mary Agnes Castrop), Mrs. Michael Dowd (Judith Dillon), Mrs. Larry Fahlstrom (Rosemary Engel) and Mrs. Timothy R. Sullivan (Kathy Schurig).

Goal: 650 Donors!

The 1974-75 alumni support program is underway with Diana Travalent '67 serving as the alumni chairman for the campaign.

Following upon the success of last year's program in which the number of donors increased by 80%, this year's goal is another increase of 200 donors for a total of 650 donors. In addition to contacting alumni by mail, a telethon is scheduled for spring at which time alumni volunteers will telephone Kansas City area alumni to enlist their support.

Donations to the alumni campaign are used to support academic programs, improve student services, provide scholarships, and help to build a new library. All contributions are tax deductible and those received by June 30 will be listed in the Annual Report.

Campus Revisited Set for April 9

Campus Revisited will be Wednesday, April 9, in the Borserine Nurse Education Centre. The annual morning of seminars which will be presented by the faculty will be followed by a luncheon and tour of the campus. Heading the planning committee for the event is Mrs. Moe Courville (Bobbie Hafner '58). Detailed information will be mailed to all alumni in the coming weeks.

Correction

The name of Mrs. Harry C. Nelson (Frances Hogan '28) was inadvertently omitted from the list of donors for the 1973-74 alumni campaign. We apologize for the omission.

CLASS '21

Anne Stewart is first assistant corresponding secretary of the Kansas City Catholic Woman's Club.

CLASS '33

Kathleen Noll, who is enjoying a career in commercial art in New York, sends a donation to Avila toward an art scholarship, stating "I would hope to help someone else along the way to what can be a good career."

CLASS '34

Mrs. Roland Horace Myers (Jeanne Gier) has been appointed to a six-year term on the Tennessee Higher Education Commission. According to Jeanne "Just wanted you to know how much I appreciate what my education for six years at St. Teresa meant to me. I was given a two-year scholarship to St. Teresa Junior College (now Avila), and made a big difference in my life."

CLASS '36

Mr. and Mrs. James F. McHugh (Edwina Cunningham) recently visited Avila, the first visit since moving to Dallas over a decade ago.

CLASS '49

Geraldine Carrigan is involved in new adult education projects in Colorado.

Mary Jo Power was appointed by the American Water Ski Association of Winter Haven, Florida, as one of the ten judges for the National Water Ski Championships in Georgia last August. There are seventy-four senior judges in the U.S.; Mary Jo is one of only thirteen women judges. She is a tax examiner for the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

CLASS '52

Mrs. Mary A. DeLaet (Mary Agnes Lynch) has been named Woman of the Year by Cascadia Chapter, American Business Women's Association. A teacher in the Jackson, Michigan, public schools for fifteen years, she has devoted her efforts for four and a half years to teaching hospitalized and homebound children from city public and parochial schools. Mary Agnes is the mother of three children, David, Douglas and Suzanne. She writes Sister Germaine that someday she hopes to send her daughter to Avila.

The John F. Shay family (Ruth Tynan) moved from Colorado to Virginia where they are enjoying the historic atmosphere. Ruth and John, who transferred with Dow Badische, have six sons and one daughter.

CLASS '54

Carmeline Chirveno is campus minister for the United Ministry of Higher Education at Kansas State University. She is also working with minority groups and is director of the learning center at Douglas Community Center, located in a low income area of Manhattan, Kansas. Carmeline initiated the program for this recently opened learning center.

CLASS '55

A note from Mrs. Richard Bishop (Patricia Downer) expresses appreciation for the issue of the Avila College Alumni Magazine featuring the four Sisters of St. Joseph missioned at Avila College for more than twenty-five years. Pat tells of her great esteem and affection for each of the four Sisters. She was president of the Student Council during her senior year at Avila. Her husband is in the security department of the J. C. Nichols Company. They have two sons, Rick and Bill.

CLASS '56

Returning to the Kansas City area are Dr. and Mrs. George H. Myers, Jr. (Gertrude "Gertie" Van Hee). Prior to moving back to K.C. Dr. Myers was head of urology at the University of Alabama where he successfully operated on Governor George Wallace following his attempted assassination.

CLASS '57

Wauneta V. Boleski is Health Services Supervisor at the Lamoni Manor Health Care Facility, Lamoni, Iowa. Lamoni Manor offers around-the-clock professional nursing service in a family atmosphere with modern, well-equipped facilities.

CLASS '58

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Coppinger (Virginia Kopp) are members of Visitation parish, Kansas City. Virginia is a member of the Avila Scholarship Sponsors and of a number of area organizations including the Trinity Lutheran Auxiliary. Dr. Coppinger is on the executive board at Trinity Lutheran Hospital and also practices at St. Mary's Hospital.

CLASS '59

In Brownsville, Texas, Mrs. Joseph B. Ramsey (Joyce Gueguen) taught the C.C.D. Confirmation class in which her oldest son participated. Joyce hopes to continue in nursing at Brownsville Medical Center or to teach at Southmost College. Her husband was recently promoted to vice president and trust officer of Pan American Bank. The Ramseys have five children, Chris, Casey, Michael, Marc and Beth. Joyce enjoys the Alumni Magazine and would like to visit "new campus."

CLASS '60

Mrs. Rayburn A. Moore, Jr. (Judith

return to school*

Ann Maskill) has served as president of the Johnson County Dental Auxiliary. Dr. Moore received his D.D.S. from U.M.K.C.

CLASS '61

Mrs. Roger A. Langenheim (Susan McMichael) writes, "Many thanks for your efforts in producing an enjoyable magazine." Since Susan, her lawyer husband and children live in Houston, "it is the only way I can keep up on things pertaining to Avila."

Dr. and Mrs. Ross A. Evans, Jr. (Patsy Ann Phelps) with young son, Langston Phelps, now reside in Waunakee, Wisconsin. Dr. Evans, a psychologist, is engaged in research on mental retardation at the University of Wisconsin.

CLASS '62

Mrs. Robert K. Kenerson (Ethel Hamilton Kenerson) is director of Christ Methodist Day School in Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Mrs. Charles A. Basgall (Margaret Ann Sullivan) exhibits pencil drawings at art affairs in the Kansas City area. The Basgalls have two daughters, Melanie Jane and Lisa Michelle.

CLASS '64

Judith Bromberg is teaching junior and senior English at Bishop Miege High School.

Sharon Morgan is project director for the Western Interstate Commission for Higher Education in Boulder, Colorado. Sharon, who recently held a federally-funded position in the Division of Educational Specialists at the University of Colorado, worked in Missouri and Kansas schools as an elementary teacher and as a special education teacher before receiving her M.S. in special education from K.U. and her Ph.D. in behavioral sciences in education from the University of Michigan. Sharon is co-author with William Morris and Frank Brunow of the book Training Teachers for the Emotionally Disturbed: An Analysis of Programs (1973).

Mrs. Michael E. Waters (Charlotte

Hunter) has been awarded a fellowship toward her doctorate in education with a major in administration from the University of Illinois. Her husband Michael, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Waters (Eldarose Meiners '34) is a lobbyist serving as assistant general counsel for the National Association of Independent Insurers. Michael and Charlotte have two daughters, Paige Denise and Michelle.

Mrs. Glen W. Flentie (Bernadine "Bea" Flentie) has been installed as president of the Jackson County Chapter, American Association of Medical Assistants. Bea served as state symposium chairman for the educational symposium sponsored by the A.A.M.A. in October. Bea is a director of the K.C. Business College's Division of Medical Education and is also on the Board of Education of Penn Valley Community College for their Medical Assistant Program. Glen and Bea have two married children.

CLASS '68

Mrs. Jack O. Cooper, III (Karin Lorraine Hayes), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Hayes, Jr. (Catherine Aylward '38), eliminated her Joplin opponent in the Missouri Women's Amateur Golf Tournament at Hillcrest Country Club in July. Karin and Jack are the parents of Kelly Jeanne and Jack O., IV.

Mrs. Patricia Lindley (Patricia Monroe), Avila sociology major, received an L.L.B. degree from U.M.K.C. Law School in May. She began work for the Panama Canal Company in the Canal Zone in August.

CLASS '69

Mr. and Mrs. Berthold V. Cox (Felicia Bowen) live in Hawaii where she is using her art education by making pots and ceramics to sell in the shop she operates with three other artists.

Mrs. Michael W. Harrington (Lucinda M. Bristow) is working at St. Luke's Hospital School of Nursing as a senior level pediatrics instructor. Lucinda and Michael have a son, Keith Michael.

Mrs. James Anderson (Mary Terese Frank) completed the school nurse practitioner course at the University of Colorado Medical Center in May. According to Mary Terese, this offers the nurse an expanded role in the school situation. "It has been of great help to me in my work as school nurse in centers for the mentally retarded." She "really" enjoys the Alumni Magazine and hopes to visit Avila on their July visit to Kansas City. James and Mary Terese have a daughter, Christine Rose.

CLASS '70

From the South comes the new address of Mrs. Robert John Bosley (Loretta Ann Knipper), special education major. Bob is now working for Shell Oil Company in New Orleans.

Mrs. William B. McConnell (Barbara Ware) teaches at the St. Cloud School of Nursing while her husband is county park ranger and head of the county park system. They reside in Waite Park, Minnesota.

CLASS '71

After three years' teaching in the K.C. public schools, Mrs. Kenneth J. Legenza (Patricia "Patty" Shea) is home with her infant daughter, Jennifer Marie. Ken does corporate scheduling and forecasting for the Rival Manufacturing Company.

Mr. and Mrs. William M. Bouchey (Barbara Walsh) are both working in the accounting department of Southwestern Bell Telephone, Oklahoma City. Barbara is working in the computer area.

Mrs. Robert G. Windmeyer (Maureen Ann Welsh) is a military personnel clerk in the General Services Administration, St. Louis.

CLASS '73

Lieutenant Terence Caldwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Caldwell (Jeanne Essler '35), is receiving sixteen hours in graduate credit in psychiatric nursing during six months at the William Beaumont Army Hospital, El Paso, Texas. The program is accredited through the University of Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Chatten Cowherd (Janice Luby Cowherd) reside in Kansas City where he has been appointed principal environmental engineer at Midwest Research Institute.

Second Lieutenant Marilyn Marcum writes from Maryland that she is assigned to the U.S. Army Technical Escort Center, whose mission is the escorting and disposal of chemical agents. She is the plans officer in that unit and the first female officer to be trained for escort.

CLASS '74

Sharon Cheers is recruiting parents and children for the Linwood, Phyllis Wheatley and Multi-Purpose Centers operated by the school district of Kansas City, Missouri.

Another "first" for Avila alumni! Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown (Dana Louise Cowan) are the proud parents of Kansas City's first baby of 1975: Jennifer Lynn, born 2:04 a.m. New Year's morning. Dana is a medical technologist at Menorah Medical Center; her husband is manager of a Champlin service station. Jennifer is their first child.

Mrs. Marlin R. Roberts (Linda D. Roberts) is art teacher at NewMark Junior High School for the North Kansas City School District.

Betti Reutter has joined the Catholic Teachers Corps volunteering to teach in a parochial school within the diocese of Lincoln, Nebraska. One joining the corps agrees to accept a salary considerably smaller than that received by lay faculty in other parochial schools as part of a movement to operate parochial schools which are financially pressed. Betti's present assignment is first grade at Sacred Heart School.

Mrs. Edward A. Wilson (Christine Wilson) has been awarded a graduate assistantship in French at the University of Missouri at Columbia.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Marbin (Janet Zvibleman), after earning the International Montessori degree, took their small daughter, Devora Moon, with them to Little Rock, Arkansas, to begin their Montessori teaching.
